GREENVILLE, S. C.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1870.

IMPORTANT ENTERPRISE.

TELEGRAPH TO GREENVILLE.

Mr. FREDERICK BUSH, President of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad, has just enclosed a subscription list to ALEXANDER McBECK, Jr., to obtain subscribers of stock in the Telegraph Line, which is now proposed to be established between Columbia and this place. The citizens of Greenville once before made a start in the same direction, and the matter failed only on account of the default of the contractors. Now, we trust, the opportunity will not be lost. We are convinced that it will be in safe hands, and will be good stock, and greatly promote the business prosperity of Greenville.

We need not urge our business men to their duty in the matter; they must all see the great advantage of the enterprise. Mr. McBECK and others will, we presume, call on all our citizens. They should take hold of it promptly and liberally. We heartily wish success to the undertaking.

Governor Scott's Inaugural Message.

We presented last week our readers with the most material parts of the Message and the tone and spirit of the paper are generally highly commended by the press and persons of all parties in the State. We are pleased to find that the Governor has begun his new term with such favorable impressions on the public mind, and trust that the next two years will find us a far more united people than we have been, and that the discord and dissatisfaction may be removed, and the causes that produced them. That impartiality, justice and integrity, may characterize the policy of the Executive throughout.

The first thing to be done, it seems to us, will be to dispense with the armed militia, let them be disbanded, and the agitators and disturbers of the peace will cease their operations. If troops are ever wanted to suppress lawless violence, the regular army of the United States would be the proper instrument. But the Governor should not permit Tom, Dick and Harry to come between him and the President in calling for troops. The purpose in such cases being, evidently, as in a recent instance in Laurens, the gratification of private ambition and revenge in retaliation for disorders provoked by unprincipled men, for their own purposes. If such men want the crown of martyrdom for stirring up the passions of their fellow citizens, let them wear it. If they have to flee from counties that they have made too hot to hold them, let them go, never to return. All such crimes would benefit the State by leaving it forever. Every enlightened citizen should set their face like a flint against all unlawful attempts at redress for threats and injuries, and only act strictly in self defense. If the Governor permits for countenances ignorant squads of militia to prowl about the country, threatening the public peace and firing off their guns by night and by day, and allows such men as Joe Crawley to virtually assume chief command, the responsibility for violations of the peace will be transferred from the ignorant underlings to himself. We are sure the Governor cannot hereafter permit such doings, if he acts in consistency with the professions of his Inaugural Message. We have no less abhorrence for the so called Ku Klux outrages, and every good man should aid in their suppression and punishment. Those who commit acts of violence, unless strictly in self defense, whatever their motives, are in reality the worst enemies of their State and their race.

The Air-Line Railroad.

The following interesting statements we get from the correspondence of the Kronos Courier. The writer is JAMES E. HAGOOD, Esq. Evidently the company is in earnest. Fifteen thousand hands working between Spartanburg in this State, and Charlotte, in North Carolina, mean business. The same number are working on the Georgia side.

Col. Sage, the chief engineer of the Air-Line Railroad has been in this City, together with Col. Dickinson, the Contractor of the Air-Line Railroad from Atlanta to Charlotte. I understand from these gentlemen, that they now have three thousand hands engaged in the work on the Road. Fifteen thousand hands are engaged in grading the road between Charlotte and Spartanburg, and a like number on the Georgia side; and that they propose to have the road completed from Atlanta to the Georgia line, and from Spartanburg to Charlotte by the 1st of January, 1872. Col. Sage has promised that he will have a survey of the line made from Greenville via New Pickets C. H., and Walhalla, to the Georgia line sometime during the month of February, and that the Counties of Pickens and Oconee shall have a fair survey made and their interest properly cared for. Col. Dickinson is a gentleman of means, and understands Rail Road engineering; and that they have means to complete the Road by the aid of the County subscriptions; and I hope soon we will hear the iron horse puffing through the Counties of Pickens and Oconee, by the way of Pickets and Walhalla.

By a statement in the Carolina Spartan, we learn likewise that Col. P. P. Dickinson, the contractor for building the Air-Line Railroad, has visited that place last week, and stated that the road was expected to be finished to Spartanburg in twelve months. The Spartan states that Col. Cannon is inviting bids for cross ties for the road from Spartanburg C. H. to Broad River.

Judge Orr and the Courts.

Judge Orr held the extra term of the Court for Greenville, to dispose of the case on the Equity side, and the Appeals which were not reached at the regular term of the Court, commencing on the first day of December. There were consequently no juries in attendance. His Honor had a heavy old docket before him, but made considerable headway in reducing it, some of the most tedious cases having been disposed of. He was under the necessity of leaving on Saturday last, being required by official business to go to Columbia on Monday last. The extra term consequently closed on Friday last.

The case involving questions of greatest interest, was that of JAMES J. WORKMAN and others vs. LOUISA C. BOLLING, Executrix of Major THADDEUS C. BOLLING, her late husband, who was Executor of the will of Mrs. MARY A. BOLLING. The plaintiffs claimed a legacy arising under the will, they being the representatives of their deceased mother, a daughter of the testatrix. A settlement was decreed before the ordinary in 1862, which fixed the amount of liability of Major BOLLING, for the legacy, at about three thousand dollars. Major BOLLING sought to pay over the money to the guardian of the Plaintiff, all being under age except one or two. The guardian would not receive the money, which was Confederate currency, and in August, 1863, Major BOLLING invested it in Confederate bonds. His death occurring since, and the suit was brought against his Executrix, to recover the entire amount of the legacy. His Honor, after hearing able arguments by Messrs. SULLIVAN & STOKES for the plaintiffs, and B. F. PERRY for the defendant, and taking time to consider, confirmed the decree of the referee, sustaining the investment, as to the portion which the guardian refused to receive, but directed the recommission of the report, with instructions to allow the parties who were of age at the time of the investment, their portion of the legacy, inasmuch as there was no proof that Major BOLLING offered to pay them at any time, or that they ever declined to receive payment, and there was no necessity for investing their portion. The Judge directed also the sealing of these portions of the legacy to one half principal and interest.

The Court continued in session till Friday evening, the Judge leaving on Saturday morning for Anderson, with a view of going to Columbia on Monday last. His Honor expects to return to Anderson on the 21st inst.

The docket has been so reduced by this Extra Term, that hereafter, it is presumed, the business of the Court will always be concluded during the two weeks regular term. After a while, it is hoped that one week or less time may prove sufficient to dispose of all the business in Court at Greenville at every term, unless there shall be an amount of criminal business beyond present expectation.

COURT IN PICKENS.

The last November term of the Court was an extraordinary one indeed, not for the amount or nature of the business, but for the remarkable fact that there was not a single prosecution, or indictment given out to the Grand Jury for any offense against the laws of the land, and not a single case to try on the Sessions docket. The Judge opened the Court of Common Pleas on Wednesday, and then also there was found no case standing for trial, and the term was closed the same day. If the law had not set apart two days for the Sessions and compelled the Judge to wait till Wednesday, Pickens Court might have opened on Monday and closed on Monday before dinner. We congratulate the citizens of Pickens on the happy state of their County, and hope their exemption from vexatious law proceedings, criminal and civil, may long continue, and that many other if not all the Counties may be able soon to report the same condition. The fact speaks well for the good order and good conduct of the Pickens people.

The Late Austin B. Vickers.

Our notice of the proceedings of the recent extra term of the Court having been crowded out of our columns last week, we did not publish the proceedings.

When Judge Orr, had taken his seat on the bench, the first day of the extra term, (Dec. 1), and called the court to order, Gen. W. K. EASLEY rose from his seat and called the attention of the court to the lamented death of the late Sheriff, AUSTIN B. VICKERS, Esq. Gen. E. paid a high tribute to the worth of the deceased, as a brave and generous man and faithful officer of the law; and offered the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great God to take from us by an untimely death, our faithful and efficient Sheriff; and whereas, the members of the Bar and the officers of the Court desire to express their appreciation of his worth and their sense of the loss which they and the community have sustained in his death;

Resolved, That the County of Greenville has lost, in the decease of Sheriff Vickers, an officer of the highest character, and the State an honest, active, intelligent and most useful citizen.

Capt. W. E. EARLE seconded the resolutions, and spoke of the excellent character which Mr. VICKERS had borne as a youth, as a soldier, and the faithful manner in which he had discharged the duties which devolved upon the various positions he had held.

Gov. PERRY concurred entirely in the remarks of the preceding speakers, and briefly alluded to the circumstances which attended the untimely death of Mr. VICKERS.

Judge Orr, on receiving the resolution, paid a high compliment to the official conduct of the late Sheriff. Though familiar with various sheriffs offices in the State, he knew none that seemed to be more creditably and properly managed than that of Greenville, by the late incumbent, AUSTIN B. VICKERS.

His Honor, out of respect to the memory of Mr. VICKERS, adjourned the Court till 10 o'clock the next day.

Distressing Accident—Child Drowned in Reedy River.

A little colored girl, about 9 years old, daughter of ANN WOOD, of this place, was drowned in Reedy River, on Monday last. The child was walking on a plank over a cut in the stream above the Falls, near Mr. CUNN's planing mill, in company with an older sister, when she fell into the swift current; the sister tried to save her, and would have been drowned also, but for the rescue effected by a colored man, who happened to be near the spot. Search was made for the body yesterday and the day of the accident; it has not yet been recovered.

Visit to the Studio of an Artist.

It has been our pleasure to second and examine some fine pictures, drawn by Mr. ANTHONY GEMANY, of this City, who has his studio in the building up stairs, corner of Main and Church Streets. The pictures were life size likenesses of the late Maj. T. C. BOLLING, of his son TULLY, and of his daughter Mrs. B. F. MILLER. The former was copied from a photograph taken when only twenty-five years of age. It is said to be a very true one, so pronounced by ROBERT DUNCAN, Esq., and L. H. SUMMERS, Esq., who know him well at that time of his life. Those of his son and daughter we know to be very correct; this is corroborated by every one who has examined them. In the execution of the work, there is an expressiveness, an animation about the pictures, and a liveliness in the drapery, that awakens one into the sense of realizing the living presence of those that we sadly reflect have entered the dark portals of death.

Mrs. BOLLING, we understand, is very much pleased with the work of Mr. GEMANY, thinking him for the superior manner in which he has executed the trust.

We also, while visiting the studio of Mr. G., were shown a picture of SAMUEL STRADLEY, Sr., Esq., father of our friend and esteemed fellow citizen, Capt. SAMUEL STRADLEY, which is also said to be a perfect transcript from nature. This last was very fine finished in the artist's very best style.

Our citizens in general, and the lovers of the fine arts in particular, will be gratified to learn that Mr. GEMANY, in the prosecution of his beautiful art, is receiving substantial encouragement from our people, having already filled orders, and is continually receiving new ones. In a few days, he will have a sitting from Dr. JAMES C. FURMAN, Mrs. B. F. CLEVELAND has also given him an order.

Our readers will remember that Mr. GEMANY was to have had a sitting from our Southern chieftain, Gen. R. E. LEE; but just in a few days previous to the time appointed, death deprived him of that honor.

A visit to Mr. GEMANY's studio will amply repay any of our citizens, and they will all be kindly received.

Proceedings in the Legislature—United States Senator and Judges Elected.

On Wednesday last, the balloting for United States Senator terminated in the election of Hon. T. J. ROBERTSON, present incumbent. We believe the election will give general satisfaction. Mr. R. is a Republican, but has shown in the last Congressional session that he is also a Carolinian, and cares for the interest of all his constituents. Gen. M. C. BUTLER received thirty-one votes for Senator, which was highly complimentary. He was nominated at one time by Senator ALLEN, of Greenville, and at another by Senator ARMISTEAD, of Edgefield, both staunch Republicans. It was known that he could not be elected, and the nomination and support he received, was, therefore, the greater tribute to his personal standing in the State. Mr. ROBERTSON received 68 votes on final ballot, but before the vote was announced changes from other candidates swelled it to 82.

On Friday, J. J. WEAVER, the colored Judge, was re-elected to a seat on the Supreme Bench, receiving 90 votes. There was no regular opposition. Scattering votes were given for MELTON, HOGG and others—R. F. GRAHAM was elected Judge of the First Circuit, in place of Judge CARPENTER, resigned.

No important bills have yet been acted on.

Mr. ALLEN, of Greenville, has introduced a bill in the Senate, to authorize the Governor to appoint a Sheriff for Greenville, to fill the unexpired term of A. B. VICKERS, Esq., deceased.

Sale of the Laurens Railroad.

The above Railroad was sold on Wednesday last, in Columbia, by J. M. BAXTER, Esq., Assignee, to Col. J. P. PATTERSON, of the Greenville and Columbia Road, for $104,500.

Wines, Brandies, &c.

We call the attention of lovers of good Wines, Brandies, Whiskies, &c., to the advertisement of Messrs. J. L. SOUTHERN & Co. They have something extra for the Christmas season.

Articles Received.

We have on file an article from LAWRENCE G. BROWN, Esq., also a letter from "CIVIL" both of which have been crowded out of this issue, but will appear next week.

JOHN H. SERRATT has written an interesting lecture, confessing the plan for the abduction of Lincoln, but denying the Confederate Government had any knowledge of the scheme. He did not credit the first reports of assassination, which reached him at Elmira, and was amazed when he heard Booth's name connected with it, as assassination had formed no part of their plan, and was never spoken of.

There was another smash up on the Greenville Road, on the 6th, at Hope Station, in which several freight cars were demolished, but no one was hurt.

Hon. James Farrow, former member of Congress from this Congressional District, is closing up his affairs at Spartanburg, having determined to remove to Kansas City, Missouri.

A contract for supplying four thousand telegraph poles, for the Greenville Telegraph line, has been entered into, at Abbeville.

Goldthwaite, Democrat, has been elected United States Senator for six years, by the Alabama Legislature.

The Democrats have elected a Mayor of Augusta.

For the Greenville Enterprise.

Messrs. Editors—Whilst participating in the views of your last week's correspondent, relative to home progress at the South, particularly to that of our neighborhood, (for I cannot aspire to "the city" of Greenville,) permit me to correct an error in that communication. One of the fair competitors at the Fair, Mrs. GILLAM, is a resident of Pickens District, that land of plenty; a region that has, for half a century, been pre eminent for its industry and consequent ability to supply half the State with all classes of superior food sustenance. Relative to the art of Design, your correspondent is correct. To arrive at a high order of mathematical development, however, is more the result of necessity than of taste, and a correct drawing founded on the true principles of perspective, which can be easily demonstrated, may be called the poetry of Geometrical lines, and is a species of knowledge not unlike Algebra as shortening Arithmetical calculation.

Before the war the South was the representative of Andalusia in society and wealth. Educational refinement alone was the introduction into refined circles. The African was an adjunct only; inferior to the Caucasian he exulted in a position that secured food and ease. Now it requires an unusual amount of natural energy to surmount that immobility and inertia that must ever accompany a human being who has never been destitute of the means of purchasing with little inconvenience those works of art which nothing but untiring labor, combined with respectable mental powers and some degree of poverty only can produce. We were abundantly able to patronize the arts, but were not willing, as a general thing, to practice the mechanical part to success in correct drawing, and then to apply such knowledge to a high but laborious mental embodiment; but, if necessary, at some future time we will show you that South Carolina has had her Frazer, her White and her Allston; the latter of whom, though for many years a resident of Massachusetts, drew his first breath in our State; and who, like Albert Durer, would never have been the artist he was, but for his sojourn in Italy.

FOR THE GREENVILLE ENTERPRISE.

The Greenville and Columbia R. R.

Messrs. Editors—I believe it was generally understood that, under the new regime, this road was to be thoroughly renovated and put in complete working trim, with new engines and all necessary rolling stock; freights and fare greatly reduced, &c. How far these expectations have been realized, the public needs not to be told. There is now more delay in sending cotton and other freight forward, occasioned by the want of rolling stock, and more irregularity in the transmission of freights generally, and higher prices charged for it, than ever before known in the history of the road. And but recently one of the most fearful accidents has occurred, by which several lives were lost, which has ever happened on this or any other road in the State. As a single instance of the high tariff of freights, on a small bill of glass ware and confections, recently shipped from Baltimore, by water, via Charleston to Abbeville C. H., the consignee paid $7.92 freight. What per cent that is on $45.50, (the amount of the bill), Michael Cassio or some other Florentine counterfeiter, may figure out. As to the irregularity in the transportation of freights, country produce (some of it perishable) shipped from Greenville to Abbeville C. H. on the 28th and 29th of November did not reach Abbeville till the 5th of December. So much for improvements. But, if $10,000 a piece salary is paid several of the principal officers out of the earnings of the road, besides the other current expenses, there may not be much left to pay for necessary improvements.

CITIZEN.

A WANT NEVER BEFORE SUPPLIED.—In the South, where Liver Complaint and Bilious diseases prevail to so great an extent, there has long been felt the need of a medicine that would act specifically and promptly on the Liver, restoring it to its normal functions, and at the same time be safe from after effects, and yet so simple that it might be used by any one. It is now admitted by all, that D. K. TUTT'S VEGETABLE PILLS supply this want. They are now prescribed by the most eminent physicians throughout the whole South.

ALABAMA CLAIMS.—We are informed that the most persistent and unyielding of the private citizens who have claims on the British Government, are Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., of Lowell, Mass., the manufacturers of medicines. They will consent to nothing less than that their demand for medicines destroyed by the British pirates shall be paid in gold and in dollars to the last cent. They are emboldened by the fact, that the destruction of their goods by the English in China and elsewhere, has rendered them not only troublesome nation-tramping upon somebody's property, but has been paid in full, and they now say that they shall be. They however propose this compromise: Give us Canada, and we will call it even, because we can then send our remedies there without duty.—Washington News.

A CHAMP HOUSE.—Said old farmer Smith to his young neighbor Jones, this is a cheap house; I have put up for Tom, who is just married; he can improve on it when he makes money. "Do you call this a cheap house, Mr. Smith?" replied young Jones. "Well, I don't. It hasn't got a sash, there are no banisters to the stairs, and the doors are so mean they will swing so in a year that it will be almost impossible to open and shut them. You have wasted more money on big joints, useless rafters, and unnecessary framing, than would have finished the house in most comfortable style. When you build a house for your next son, write first to P. TOOLEY, Charleston, S. C., the largest manufacturer of doors, sashes, blinds, &c., in the Southern States."
